

First International Summer School on Cognitive Wireless Communications

COST Action IC0902 and Network of Excellence ACROPOLIS joint 2011 Summer School

July 12–15, 2011 – Villa Finaly, Florence, Italy

Final report

- The school was a huge success: 99 participants coming from 20 different countries over 4 continents (Europe, Asia, Africa, North America)

Distribution of participants over countries

Distribution of participants - COST vs. Non-COST

Distribution of participants - IC0902 vs. Non-IC0902

- Participants were acquainted with basic knowledge of cognitive communications and were able to apply these concepts in laboratory sessions: PHY, Network, Channel Modeling

- Following final arrangements with EURECOM, over 90 seats were made available for the LAB sessions, accommodating all participants that expressed interest in attending the labs.

- Students had the opportunity to present their own latest research achievements during the school by participating in a student poster session

- Posters are available online at:
http://newyork.ing.uniroma1.it/IC0902/SummerSchool2011/Poster\_session.html

Along the 4 intense days there was A LOT of serious stuff going on...

... HARD work...

... and SOME fun

Thanks to lecturers and participants for contributing to an interesting and lively event!

